Please join Carol on site at Darts Hill Garden as she creates the mosaics for her fused glass pieces that are on display in the garden. She is happy to explain her process if you have any questions.

Carol is a self-taught local artist who has been working with fused glass for the past ten years. She finds creating scenes and allowing people to feel her abstracts when observing them to be very rewarding. She works with a variety of mediums: carving; wood, stone, antler; watercolour painting, and jewelry making where she cuts and polishes the stones that she uses. She enjoys blending her different art forms together to create something beautiful.
